

Friends of the KOOPMAN LIBRARY keep our story alive.

Did you know the Koopman Library is a free Jewish community library open to the public? Located in the Mandell Jewish Community Center, the Koopman Library serves as a center for Jewish learning, information, and entertainment.

We offer:

- Jewish books for all ages and interests (fiction and biography, large print, and books on CD/tape)
- A large children's and teen's collection
- A growing collection of Jewish-themed films (Israeli, action, comedy, drama, and classics)
- Extensive reference collection
- Variety of Jewish-themed periodicals and journals

And for teachers:

- Consultations with our experienced staff
- Jewish educational lesson plans and curriculum materials
- Ellison die-cut machine
- Music
- Wifi and quiet study space

It feels so good to be a Friend!

Last year, our foot traffic increased by 3,000, and we welcomed over 50 new Friends at different giving levels!

Thanks to your support and dedication, we were able to add over 75 new titles in books, film and music.

Please consider making a donation this year to help us continue to offer our community the very best.

What your donation could provide:

Supporter

$18 provides one award-winning Jewish-themed novel

Author

$36 provides two beautifully illustrated children's holiday books

Bestseller

$52 provides teachers access to an Ellison Die Cut for classroom or home cut-out decorations

Classic

$100 provides a collection of Israeli music or special library programming. Ask for details.

Publisher

$250 provides a Book Club Kit. Ask for details.
