

Friends of the KOOPMAN LIBRARY keep our story alive.

Did you know the Koopman Library is a free Jewish community library open to the public? Located in the Mandell Jewish Community Center, the Koopman Library serves as a center for Jewish learning, information, and entertainment.

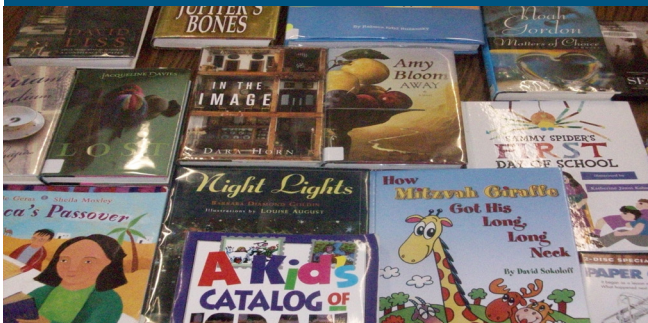

We offer:

- Jewish books for all ages and interests (fiction and biography, large print, and books on CD/tape)
- A large children's and teen's collection
- A growing collection of Jewish-themed films (Israeli, action, comedy, drama, and classics)
- Extensive reference collection
- Variety of Jewish-themed periodicals and journals

And for teachers:

- Consultations with our experienced staff
- Jewish educational lesson plans and curriculum materials
- Ellison die-cut machine
- Music
- Wifi and quiet study space
